Want to do real journalism while you learn?

The Elkhart Truth/eTruth.com offers paid internships throughout the year. Interns work alongside full-time beat reporters and photographers to cover Elkhart County, Ind.

The Truth is a family-owned news organization committed to serving its community in print and online. The newspaper, with morning distribution seven days a week, has a circulation of about 24,000. eTruth.com generates more than 50,000 page views a day -- 20 million total in 2011.

Whether you work in words, images or both, this is a chance to sharpen your skills and learn how to use social media and multimedia tools to tell stories.

Reporting intern candidates should have print/online experience and at least 2 years in a college journalism program.

We offer one full-time summer reporting internship and one full-time photo internship. (We need photo interns year-round.) The pay is $10 an hour. Interns who can work full-time are preferred, but part-time positions may be available. Start times are flexible to accommodate school schedules.

Must have a valid driver's license and access to a car.

For a reporting internship, send resume, links and cover letter to Greg Halling, managing editor (574.296.5937, ghalling@etruth.com).

For a photography internship, send a portfolio on disk with cover letter and resume to Jen Shephard, chief photographer (574.296.5818, jsheward@etruth.com).
